Medevac Agencies Serving Virginia

* This map includes Medevac agencies located within Virginia or within 30 miles of its borders.

This document is intended to be a resource document only. There are multiple factors to be considered when a locality, hospital, or EMS agency wants to understand which Medevac agency can best serve their needs. There may not be any one single agency that can serve all the Medevac needs of an area, so understanding what resources are available and pre-planning are essential components to the decision making process. Since helicopter transport is primarily considered for time savings and advanced care, some questions planners can ask of Medevac agencies may include, but are not limited to:

- Location of base
- Location of crew compared to the base
- Is the base staffed 24/7
- What is the crew staffing; RN/medic, RN/RN, medic/medic, are specialty teams available?
- What does the agency do if the primary Medevac is not available
- Are there restrictions to taking of i.e. busy airport traffic
- What is the agencies average take off time
- What are the agencies policies with “hot loading”? This could affect overall timing.
- Law Enforcement Medevac agencies may be able to enter “active crime scenes” or other scene’s that commercial Medevac agencies cannot.
- Does the patient truly need helicopter transport
- What hospital will the patient be transported to? As medically appropriate patients may want to be transported to a particular hospital; is this an issue? Agencies not licensed in Virginia will be required to transport patients out of state; will this be a hardship?

The table below shows what the physical locations of Medevac bases that serve Virginia are. As stated above, there are many factors that need to be considered when preplanning Medevac agency use. This table is designed to help the EMS system understand what agencies serve Virginia, and where they are located. The “primary region” column identifies where the Medevac base is physically located. The “secondary region” column identifies which region is the next closest to the base, “as the crow flies”. Bases that are located out of state are noted as out of state, but they may actually be closer than other Medevac units within the state. Also only those out state agencies that are within 30 miles of Virginia’s borders were included. This was purely to create a manageable document.

Several agencies could easily have three, four, or more regions listed. Some Medevac agencies can travel 125 nautical miles from their base and travel at speeds up to 160 mph. Speed and distant vary depending on the aircraft used, weight of payload i.e. one or two patients, specialty equipment etc., fuel on the aircraft at the time of dispatch and more.
